

Divorce is stressful not only for parents but also for the children.

Children Cope with Divorce is a program of Visiting Nurse Service, Inc., a United Way agency. This four-hour educational program for divorcing parents emphasizes the needs of the children. The seminars are instructed by highly qualified professionals and these sessions are mandated by the local courts. Each parent should schedule his or her class within thirty days of filing for divorce. Upon completion of the seminar, participants will receive a certificate and their attendance will be reported to the courts.

Topics covered include:

- How families experience divorce
- Typical reactions of children
- Developmental needs of children
- Pitfalls to avoid

Instructions for attending class:

It is suggested that all parents, prior to attending the seminar, go to the website, www.UpToParents.org, and complete the "homework" and bring a copy of the printout to their seminar. The website is an opportunity provided at absolutely no charge for parents to focus on their child's need for respect, predictability, and (if possible) cooperation between their parents. It is additionally suggested that you review the website www.sharekids.com, which provides scheduling and communication tools to parents.

The fee for Children Cope with Divorce is $50 per person and is payable when you attend the class.

In certain circumstances, fees may be reduced for qualifying persons. Application for fee reduction must be completed and approved in advance through the Children Cope with Divorce office.

All sessions begin on time. No one will be allowed in late! A $5 fee will be charged for each missed appointment which is not cancelled or rescheduled at least 24 hours in advance.
